

Petra Ahrens

Emel Topcu-Brestrich

Karin Schilling

Kerstin Ahrens

v.l.n.r.: Saša Marie Lienau, Kinga Lohmann

Short biographies

Kerstin Ahrens

Born in 1969. M.A. in Applied Cultural Studies from Lüneberg University. Since 2000 she has been in Berlin on the staff of the Heinrich-Böll-Foundation's Common Taskforce for Gender Democracy.

www.boell.de, Ahrens@boell.de

Petra Ahrens

Born in 1974 in Neustadt am Rübenberge, Lower Saxony. Studied social sciences in Berlin and Amsterdam. Formerly Lecturer at the Technical University Berlin. Since October 2003 she has been a staff member at the Gender Competence Centre of the Humboldt University Berlin's Centre for Transdisciplinary Gender Studies. Her work has focussed on the theory and practice gender mainstreaming strategies, gender and work as well as on gender equality in the European Union.

www.genderkompetenz.info, ahrens@genderkompetenz.info

Renate Börger

50 years old, a journalist working for the Bayerischer Rundfunk and a member of Attac, whose economic motto runs - The search for the human dimension and for economic systems which allow the sense and purpose, the how and what of work and production to be questioned.

ReBoerger@aol.com

Andreas Buchner

Born in 1972. In 1997, whilst still studying Business and Intercultural Communication at Munich's Ludwig-Maximilian-University he founded Hylas Holdings GmbH, a company which today has a number of holdings in the internet and IT sectors. Buchner is a member of the "Munich Circle", an international group for communication research, as well as of the federal board of the Green Business Association, UnternehmensGrün e.V.

www.unternehmensgruen.de, buchner@hylas.de studied journalism, drama and politics at the Free University Berlin. After initially working as a theatre and PR assistant in the cultural sector, in 2001 she took up a position as research assistant in the German Federal Parliament. Amongst other positions there, she worked as head of the office of parliamentary leader of the Green Party. At present she is living in Berlin and working as personal assistant in a project management and political consultancy firm.

Ulrike Cichon

ulicic@hotmail.com

Dr. Gisela Dütting

Anthropologist, independent researcher and activist, based in Amsterdam, Netherlands. Dütting specializes in international advocacy, gender and economic justice. She worked for a local NGO in Zimbabwe, carried out research on economic sustainability in Swaziland and Algeria, and was Coordinator of the Women's Global Network for Reproductive Rights (1991-1998). She is an experienced campaigner at UN and EU level, national and local level. Currently, she is a board member of WIDE, Brussels. She is currently working as a consultant to public interest NGOs, international advocacy networks and social movements. www.wide-network.org, gisela@xs4all.nl

Anja Edelhäuser

born 1964, studied "European Studies" and was research assistant at the Centre for Applied Policy Research (Research Group for Europe). Since 2002 she has been a political adviser concentrating on the development and implementation of transnational EU-projects. In this context, her main issues are migration/integration, diversity and gender. She has been working as academic assistant responsible for asylum, immigration and women's policies for the Greens in the Bavarian Parliament. edelhaeuser@politik-beratung.biz

Birgit Erbe

Diploma in Political Science (Free University Berlin), M.A. in Race and Ethnic Relations (University of Warwick, UK). She has been executive director of the Women's Academy, Munich since 2001. Prior to that she was education officer for the German Trade Union Federation's youth education centre at Flecken-Zechlin, Brandenburg, and the Heinrich-Böll-Foundation's Berlin office. Her current work focuses on women in the European Union, gender budgeting and women's rights. www.frauenakademie.de, erbe@frauenakademie.de

Dr. Regina Frey

Born in 1966, she researches and teaches in the fields of gender mainstreaming and training as well as gender budgeting. She is one of the founders of the "Initiative for a gender-just budget in Berlin" (2001) and has published several articles on gender budgeting. She is currently working as a free lance consultant and trainer for "Länder"-administrations, EU structural funds projects, Universities and NGOs, also supporting her clients in implementing gender-budgeting strategies. She is teaching in a post graduate study course on gender-competence at Free University Berlin www.gender.de, frey@gender.de

Carolin Gebel

Born 1968 in Diez an der Lahn. Studied journalism, Latin American studies and political science at Free University Berlin. Training in systemic and gestalt-oriented organisation consulting (IGG Berlin). Further training in project management, dialogue and group dynamics. Since December 2003 she has been internally responsible for personnel development in the federal parliamentary group of the Green Party. Since 2002 she has been an independent consultant working internationally in the fields of organisational consulting and coaching, both the non-profit and the profit sector. Her work focuses on: development of potential and team development, processes of strategy formation, mergers and integration consulting, cultural change and large-group processes.

www.gebel-beratung.de, Carolin.Gebel@t-online.de

Friederike Habermann

Economist and historian. Formerly active as economics editor, feminist economics has always been one of her principal interests. Her book on economic developments in Argentina, "Aus der Not eine andere Welt. Gelebter Widerstand in Argentinien" was published by the Ulrike-Helmer-Verlag this autumn. She is currently working on a study of political education about globalisation for the Rosa Luxemburg Foundation, aimed towards worldwide networking.

Friedegg@gmx.de

Dr. Susanne Hildebrandt (Dr. Susanne von Auerbach)

Born in 1964 in Karlsruhe, graduate in economics and political science from the University of Heidelberg (1990); PhD in Political Science from the Free University Berlin (2000); former fellow of the Hans-Böckler-Foundation (1996-2000); Marie-Curie-Fellow (2003-5) at the European Trades Union Institute since October 2003. Research interests: the impact of globalisation on the economy, the political systems and gender; economic restructuring and its social, political and ecological impacts in developing countries, especially in Latin America.

www.etuc.org/etui/, shildebrandt@etuc.org

Dr. Andrea Jochmann-Döll

Business studies graduate. Doctorate in 1990 (thesis on the subject of equal pay for equivalent work). Until 1995 she was an executive and women's representative in a steel-producing company. Since 1995 she has been an independent coach, consultant and researcher in the fields of gender, pay and organisational development. In 2003 she founded the Essen based research and consultancy group GEFA (Gender.Entgelt.Führung.Arbeit), together with Dr. Karin Tondorf.

jochmann-doell@gefa-forschung-beratung.de

Elfriede Kerschl

A macroeconomist by training, since 2001 she has been responsible for economic and socio-political questions at the Bavarian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (IHK). A main focus of her work is the topic of "family and profession". A primary task is informing the business members of the IHK about possibilities and advantages of implementing family friendly measures. Elfriede Kerschl is married and has two children.

kerschl@muenchen.ihk.de

Dr. Oksana Kisselyova

PhD in philosophy. Currently Senior Researcher at the Institute of Philosophy of the Ukrainian National Academy of Sciences. President of the NGO, Liberal Society Institute. Her research centres on social and political issues, sustainable development, and gender studies.

kisselyova@ukr.net

Tilman Knittel

Project manager for "Economics and Society" at Prognos AG, Basle (Switzerland). His area of expertise lies in the field of "Work-Life-Balance", in particular with regard to the business and macroeconomic benefits resulting from increased compatibility of work-, personal-, and family life.

www.prognos.com, tilmann.knittel@prognos.com

Dagmar Koblinger

Born in 1960. A sociologist active for many years in the academic world. She is currently developing and managing EU projects in the context of labour market policies which are close to businesses. Her work focuses on the sociology of work and careers, gender research and labour market policy. She has been on the board of the Women's Academy, Munich since 1997.

www.frauenakademie.de, Dagmar.Koblinger@verbund-strukturwandel.de

Alena Krátíková

Having studied 20th century language and literature, she is now director of education of Gender Studies Prague. Her interests include women's and gender issues in the Czech Republic and in the European Union. Her recent work has focussed on the media with regard to gender, the political participation of women and their access to decision making positions.

gender@ecn.cz

Iris Kronenbitter

Born in 1956. Studied history, German and business management (Dipl. VWA). As academic coordinator at the University of Tübingen she put together a number of international and interdisciplinary projects. Project director of the Baden-Württemberg State Initiative for Entrepreneurs and Business Succession (ifex) focussing on: initiatives for women entrepreneurs; school initiatives; regional initiatives and model schemes; pilot projects of the European Social Fund; an initiative for foreign entrepreneurs, "independent in Germany"; small business start-ups and entrepreneurship amongst the unemployed; freelance entrepreneurship. Project director of the nationwide agency for woman entrepreneurs (bga), an information and service centre offering support to its target group – women on the way towards entrepreneurial independence – covering all types of business and stages of enterprise formation, strengthening the enterprise and enterprise succession.

www.gruenderinnenagentur.de, Iris.Kronenbitter@wm.bwl.de

Jochen Kubosch

Studied law in Erlangen. After legal training in Nuremberg and Paris he worked as a judge in Nuremberg, then in the Bavarian State Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs (Dept. Europe). Sent to Brussels as a government representative, in 1989 he went on to work for the European Commission as a member of Commissioner Bangemann's cabinet, later as a member of the (press-)spokesperson team. Since 1.10.1999, Kubosch has been Head of the European Commission Representation in Munich.

www.eu-kommission.de, eu-de-muenchen@cec.eu.int

Dr. Hans Kuebler

After studying engineering and taking a doctorate in business studies he worked for many years in the telecommunications sector as management executive and consultant (for Siemens and GPT among others). Today he is a business journalist, but also active as a consultant and lecturer (innovation management) at Stuttgart University and as a curator for art collections ("Stiftung Vergessene Kulturgüter"). Dr. Hans Kuebler is married and has four children.

hk@etc-team.com

Saša Marie Linau

Born in 1948. Although from a staunchly communist family, she left her home country for Germany 20 years later as the tanks rolled in. Trade union and youth work in Hanover and Brunswick. Studied Slavonic studies and political science in Göttingen. Since then her interests have focussed on the feminist movement and all questions of women's policy and later on gender policy. She has been director of a women's NGO in Prague for the past ten years, proFem. Has a son of 26.

www.profem.cz, profem@ecn.cz

Regina Lochmele

Regina Lochmele was born in the Ukraine in 1966. Her mother is Belorussian, her father Latvian. Lochmele has lived in Latvia since 1970 and has had Latvian citizenship since 1992. She is a journalist and worked for Latvian television as a newscaster for over ten years. Her experiences with management are very diverse: she was head of a commercial radio station for seven years and head of a fur shop for two years. At the moment she is the owner and head manager of a security firm named "Jaguars" with 120 employees. Lochmele is a member of the Latvian Business Women Organisation and a member of the European Women's Management Development (EWMD). She is studying at Latvian University for a masters degree in management and has a son of 17 years and a daughter of 12 years.
regi@petits.lv

Kinga Lohmann

A historian by profession, this Polish women's activist is director of the KARAT Coalition in Warsaw, an international organisation of 20 women's NGOs from Central and Eastern Europe. Editor and co-author of several reports monitoring the implementation of the international agreements aimed towards ensuring gender equality. Publications include works on the labour market from a gender perspective in the context of EU expansion.
www.karat.org, kinga_lohmann@zigzag.pl

Mascha Madörin

The Swiss economist lic.rer.pol. has experience of both practice and theory. She has worked in a large Swiss bank, in a cantonal finance department and in a private research company, going on to spend five years in Africa. Madörin works in feminist economic theory in the field of the care economy and the financial sector as an consultant for gender budgeting, as well as being an analyst and lobbyist for NGOs on the relations of Swiss banks to the third world. She teaches international economic development and social policy at Basle's School of Social Education and Social Work (Fachhochschule für Sozialpädagogik und Sozialarbeit). She is a member of Basle-City Cantons expert commission on gender specific budget analysis.
mmadoerin@bluewin.ch

Prof. Dr. Friederike Maier

Economics graduate and Dr. rer. pol (FU Berlin). Since 1992 she has been professor of economics at the Berlin School of Economics (Fachhochschule für Wirtschaft Berlin). She is the director of the school's Harriet Taylor Mill Institute for Gender and Economics Research. Since 1992 she has been the German expert in the European Commission's Expert Group on Gender and Employment. Her research and teaching interests focus on labour market and employment research, social policy, micro- and macroeconomic aspects of gender relations, above all in comparative international analyses. Numerous publications on the labour market and employment, gender relations, economic theory and gender.
www.fhw-berlin.de, www.harriet-taylor-mill.de, friemaie@fhw-berlin.de

Henriette Meseke

Born in 1962. A social science graduate working as consultant and researcher in the field of labour market and structural policy since 1991. Her work focuses on consulting and evaluation in the context of European Structural Funds assistance from the perspective of gender mainstreaming and gender equality (currently with regard to the Community's initiative EQUAL).

www.compass-bremen.de, henriette.meseke@compass-bremen.de

Dr. Claudia Neusüß

Studied political science, psychology and economic geography in Bonn. Graduated in political science at the Free University Berlin. Doctorate 1994. Taught at the Free University, Berlin from 1990 to 1996 focussing on social policy, labour market policy and family affairs policy, alternative economics as well as on empirical research projects on women and the welfare state. In 1987 she was one of the founders of the women's co-operative "WeiberWirtschaft" on whose executive board she served from 1990 to 1996; she is currently on the supervisory board. From 1996 to 2002 she was on the executive board of the Heinrich-Böll-Foundation, responsible for international politics, the common tasks of gender democracy and migration/inter cultural management as well as for the construction of the Feminist Institute. Since 2002 she has lectured and studied in various central and east European countries. Since 2003 she has chaired the executive board of the East-West Women's Network OWEN. Neusüß currently works as an independent political consultant and project developer. She is author of numerous publications, among others on EU enlargement, gender mainstreaming and gender democracy.

Contact: neusuess@aol.com, Tel. 0049-(0) 172-91 30 948

Prof. Anita Nyberg

Professor of gender, work and economics at the National Institute for Working Life in Stockholm, Sweden. Her work has mainly dealt with women's and men's paid and unpaid work and income.

anita.nyberg@arbetslivsinstitutet.se

Silke Rapp

Born 1971. Studied drama, European ethnology and education at the LMU Munich, majoring in drama education. Since 1999 she has been spokesperson for women's affairs for the Bavarian Green Party. In addition, freelance activity in the field of civic education. Organisation of events and moderation.

Current work focus: Gender Budgeting, Mentoring programmes

silke.rapp@bayern.gruene.de

Dr. Andrea Rothe

Andrea Rothe studied history of American culture, communication and psychology at Ludwig-Maximilian-University, Munich, obtaining a doctorate in political science from the Free University, Berlin with a thesis on the background and motives men have for sex tourism. Her work and research focuses on the effects of sex tourism and pornography, new media and especially violence on the internet, use of media in youth education, girls and new media, as well as women/girls and technology (including 5 years at the German Technical Museum in Munich) and human resource and equality policy. Rothe's work at the non-university institute, the Women's Academy, Munich centres mainly on gender mainstreaming.

www.frauenakademie.de, Rothe-Andrea@web.de

Dr. Ewa Ruminska Zimny

Co-ordinator of the Gender and Economy Programme of the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe/UNECE in Geneva. Ruminska-Zimny has a PhD in international economics from the Warsaw School of Economics. She has been working for the United Nations since 1989. Her concerns include gender and social aspects of the transition process both as an economist at DESA/UN and as senior economist at the Human Development Report Office (New York). She was involved in the Beijing-process as chief consultant on transition countries. She also worked on the Regional Preparatory Meeting (Vienna 1994), the Beijing Conference (Beijing 1995) and on the Beijing +5 Review (Geneva 2000). Since 2001 she has been working for the UNECE where she has developed gender and economy programmes with a strong focus on mainstreaming gender into economic policies and on women's entrepreneurship. She also coordinates the regional preparatory process for the 10 year Review of the implementation of the Beijing Platform for Action.

Ewa.zimny@unece.org

Natalia Sarata

Born in 1979; graduated with an M.A. in Sociology and an M.A. in European Studies from Jagiellonian University, Krakow; participant of the 13th Democracy & Diversity Graduate Summer Institute organised by New School University, New York (2004); postgraduate student of Interdisciplinary Gender Studies at the Audiovisual Arts Department of Jagiellonian University; since 2002 she has been working for the feminist NGO Women's Foundation eFKa.

sarata@efka.org.pl

Benno Savioli

Born in 1956, he has one son. Savioli is an economics graduate whose company feedback GbR is based in Bremen. Since 1987, his professional focus has been in the field of labour market and structural policy and included evaluation and consulting/development in the field of monitoring. Savioli has been involved in various twinning projects in the context of the EU enlargement process (Bulgaria, Slovenia, Romania) since 2002.

www.feedback-bremen.de, savioli@feedback-bremen.de

Karin Schilling

Sociology graduate. Studied sociology, business management and organisational psychology in Munich. For more than eight years she has been a consultant for entrepreneurs in the Munich office for business start-ups. Prior to this she gained many years experience as freelancer and as academic assistant on several projects. Whilst still a student she became active in women's research. She has been on the executive board of the Women's Academy, Munich since 1996. Since 2003 she has been on the supervisory board member of a small corporation.

www.frauenakademie.de, schilling@picodostec.com

Rezzo Schlauch

Born in 1947 in Gerabronn. Studied law at the Universities of Freiburg and Heidelberg. Second State Examination in Law in Berlin 1975. Since 1975: Attorney in private practice. Member of the Republican Lawyers' Association and the Green Business Association, UnternehmensGrün. Since 1980: Member of the Green Party. 1984 to December 1994: Member of the state legislature in Baden-Württemberg. 1990 to 1992: Chairman of the Green Party parliamentary group in the state legislature. Since 1994: Member of the German Bundestag. October 1998 to October 2002: Chairman of the Green Party Parliamentary Group in the Bundestag. Since October 2002: Parliamentary State Secretary in the Federal Ministry of Economics and Labour.

www.bmwi.de, rezzo.schlauch@bundestag.de

Małgorzata Tarasiewicz

Since 2000 she has been executive director of the Network of East-West Women Polska in Gdansk. Having helped founding NEWW she is also a board member. She was formerly coordinator of amnesty international Poland's International Criminal Court Project and a regional (Central and Eastern Europe) contact person for the Women's Caucus for Gender Justice in the International Criminal Court. Between 1990 and 1995 she was chair of amnesty international Poland. From 1989 to 1991 she was national coordinator of the Women's Section of the "Solidarity" Trade Union. From 1986 to 1989 she was an active member of "Freedom and Peace", an underground movement opposing the socialist regime.

www.neww.org.pl, tarasiewicz@neww.org.pl